Ascension of Bahá'u'lláh

Bahá'í bah-OH-ah-lah

Bahá'ís commemorate the anniversary of the death of Bahá'u'lláh, the founder of the Bahá'í Faith; it took place in what is now northern Israel in 1892.

The Ascension of Bahá'u'lláh is one of the nine holy days in the year where work is suspended.

SCHOOL OF INFORMATION

This collection of information sheets on major holidays and cultural events is a joint partnership of the School of Information staff, the Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, and the Office of the Provost. Facts have been vetted by U-M's Association of Religious Counselors (ARC), and other campus groups. Public feedback is welcome; please email DEIHolidayFacts@umich.edu.

Date

- The date varies year to year. The Bahá'í day ends and a new one begins at sunset; consequently, the day on which a Feast or Holy Day is observed begins at sunset of the day before the Gregorian calendar dates listed
- Link to Bahá'í calendar for year/date lookup.

Greetings

There is no traditional greeting for this holiday.

Common Practices and Celebrations

The day is often marked with prayers about eight hours after sunset (early morning).

Common Dietary Restrictions

- Bahá'ís are asked to abstain from alcohol.
- There are no dietary restrictions.
